Bicentennial spirit

Romulus residents have a chance to back their nation and their community at the same time through the purchase of a new Romulus Bicentennial Committee license plate holder. Available through the Romulus Bicentennial Commission, the holder proves the motorist still is dedicated to the ideals of 200 years ago in America and helps support the planned community-wide celebration on the bicentennial. Purchasing the first holder in the city is Mayor James C. Stewart (right). Proposal : City on housing field

A move is underway to put Romulus in the housing business.

Joyce Palmer, director of the Romulus Neighborhood Center in the Meadows Subdivision, has proposed to the Romulus City Council a plan to turn one abandoned home in the area into a recreation center and to use further appropriations to purchase and renovate a home for sale at a profit.

In a lengthy memorandum to the council, Mrs. Palmer, who replaced Louise Comerford as center director, said: "It is the hope of the City of Romulus that through this center many of the resident needs will be met and abandoned housing no longer will be a dire problem."

In her proposal, Mrs. Palmer said it is to the benefit of the subdivision to "direct the idle energies" of the subdivision's youth into "constructive outlets."

"Therefore, it has deemed that our second concern in the renovation of the area be the provision of the recreation for youth," she added. "Supervised recreation will be an asset in constructively redirecting the energies of youth."

But the key to the program is providing space, according to Mrs. Palmer.

"The Romulus Neighborhood Center is not adequate to house all of the proposed services badly needed to help eliminate the blight of the community," she said.

Mrs. Palmer added that space in the existing building presently is used to provide a headquarters for action in the Meadows, including space for service agencies, community meetings and limited recreation.

"With the support and approval of Mayor (James) Stewart and the assistance of the Center Director Joyce Palmer, plans have been proposed to buy and restore a second house with a sole purpose to function as a recreation center," the proposal stated.

Among the plans for the center are providing a location for traditional indoor recreation activities, a headquarters for some outdoor activities, arts and crafts space, some pin ball machines and a mini-library.

No cost for the project has been set, however, Mrs. Palmer indicates that funds set aside by the council could cover the cost of the recreation center purchase and the purchase of a third home in the subdivision for city renovation.

Under the continuing plan, homes would be purchased in the subdivision, renovated and sold on the open market at a profit, since "the provision of supply and demand almost is a certainty that the renovation of the Meadows Area will be a success."

No official action has been taken on the proposal, however, members of the council have supported the concept in the past, though the original renovation plan was to be covered with the use of federal funds.

According to Mrs. Palmer, the council will be approached by a coalition of civic leaders, including representatives of the city's administration, council, the Romulus Help Center, Family and Neighborhood Services and the YWCA, to approve the proposal.

serious storm drainage problems in Metropolitan Airport which require taking land for the ponding of storm run-off.

"It's been tied up on the political process for some time," he said. "It seems about the time the project is to get underway, either the township or the city is having an election, and the project gets delayed."

Stewart is hoping the "super ditch", as he calls it, can get under construction this summer — before Huron Township's elections.

"We've got the township and city engineers working together on it now and should have plans soon," he said. "Hopefully, everyone will agree to the financing and the thing will get underway this time."

Stewart eyes WCRC meet

Mayor James C. Stewart is planning a get-together this week with the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) to begin discussing "mutual problems" between the community and the road agency.

"We'll be discussing many things including the city's claim for damages from Detroit Metropolitan Airport, road repair and the 'super ditch' we're hoping to construct in cooperation with the WCRC and Huron Township," Stewart said.

Stewart has set a goal of starting construction on the massive storm drain intercept which would alleviate the city's drainage problem this year.

WCRC spokesmen last week said they are agreeable to discussing the plan in an effort to alleviate some

Ex-ed trustee counters slam

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

There's one member of the 1973 Romulus Board of Education who's upset over being lumped together with her colleagues in a criticism of the board for poor planning on the bond issue recommendation for four new schools in the district.

Diane Boger, who lost her seat on the board last year, said she was one of two dissenting members on the Board of Education when the 7-member panel voted to recommend a "badly needed" bond issue to build three elementary schools and one junior high school.

"I could see back in May 1973 that there was no way the district could fill three elementary schools with students," Mrs. Boger said. "I recommended against a bond issue for elementary schools and instead favored a bond issue to build a new high school."

"But the idea fell on deaf ears." Last week, the chairman of a citizen's task force studying means for the district to get out of an anticipated $1.4 million deficit next year blamed "poor planning" on the part of the board of education "for some of the district's fiscal problems."

Presently the task force, headed by Lynn Slaughter, is studying the necessity of opening two new elementary schools next year. Enrollment in the district has not increased by much since the bond issue was approved by the voters in 1973.

Alternatives the district is eyeing include closing three of the older schools in the district and sending the students in those schools to the new Hale Creek Elementary School in the Meadows Subdivision near Middle Belt and Eureka roads and the Barth Road Elementary School on Barth Road between Hannan and Huron River Drive.

The most likely schools to close include Romulus Elementary School in the city's central business district, the Gordonier Elementary School on Smith Road west of Middle Belt Road and the Beverly Elementary School on Beverly Road east of Wayne Road, according to Mrs. Boger.

"What it means is if those three schools close, students who at one time could walk to school now would be bused to schools farther away, increasing the district's transportation costs," she said.

Students from Beverly and Gordonier could be bused to the Wick Road Elementary School opened this year on Wick Road west of Wayne Road.

Students from Romulus Elementary School could be bused to both the Wick Road School and the Barth Road School.

"While we're building these new elementary schools, there's a crisis brewing in the high school," Mrs. Boger said. "The maximum capacity for the high school is 1,515 students, and the two junior high schools will be designed to hold a total of 1,740 students."

"Back in 1973, the kindergarten enrollment was 668, the first grade enrollment was 588, the second grade enrollment was 546 and the third grade enrollment was 543."

"When those four grades hit the high school, we'll be in real trouble, because there won't be enough room, even if we go to a seventh, eighth and ninth grade concept in the junior high schools.

"I'm expecting the board to come back soon with a request for bond money to build a new high school. "It's too bad, because that's how I wanted to use the bond money from 1973, but the request fell on deaf ears."

Youthful thief sought in case

A Romulus couple is hoping that a suspected youthful vandal and thief will be brought to justice by his parents.

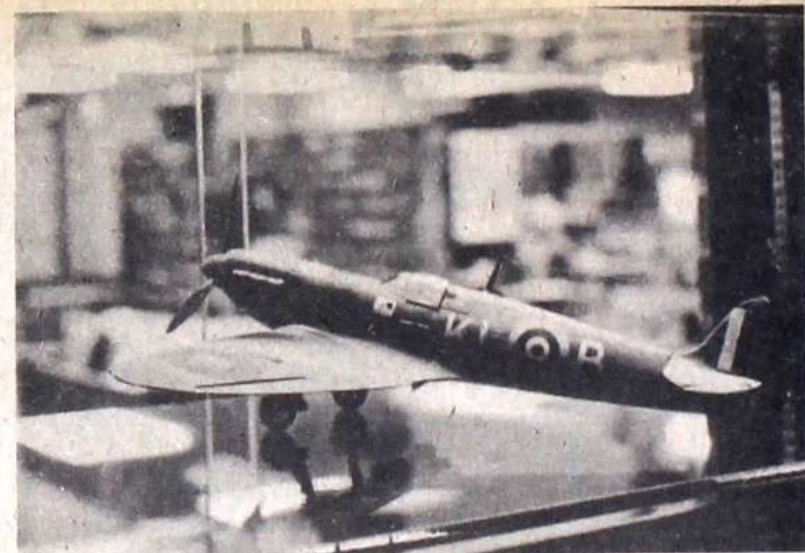

A person broke into the long-haul tractor trailer, owned by a Romulus trucker, sometime early Sunday morning and suffered a gash to his arm in the process.

According to the victims, the tractor, parked near Castle and Huron River Drive, was robbed of a $65 tape deck and a $35 citizens' band radio antenna, in addition to the broken window.

"We're hoping that because of the apparent sign of a serious cut in the truck, that the person who committed the crime will be discovered and turned over to the sheriff," said the wife of the trucker. "If parents have a child with a mysterious cut, they should question him about it."

The trucker, who hauls several different types of cargos with his privately-owned rig, lost a full-day's pay in addition to the goods because of the broken window.

Information on the robbery can be reported to the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol at 721-2222.

Up and away

On display at the Romulus public library is a replica of the famous "Spitfire" from the British Royal Air Force. Recreated by model plane hobbyist and aircraft industry student Dick Warfelt (below), the plane was the backbone of the RAF during the famous "Battle of Britain" when the German Luftwaffe attempted to pound the island nation during the early days of World War II. The Spitfire, though technologically inferior to some of the German aircraft used during the Battle of Britain, turned out to be a superior weapon because of the skill and dedication of the RAF pilots who flew it. — The Romulus Roman photos.

"Living Legends in Black," an exhibition of 162 photographs by J. Edward Bailey III, has begun a 2-month run at the Detroit Historical Museum.

It is the first public showing of the pictures, the results of a 6-year project in which Bailey, a Detroit nationally known for his work for Life, Time and Fortune magazines, photographed and interviewed black people who have made important contributions in fields of endeavor other than sports and entertainment. The exhibition, commissioned by the Detroit Bicentennial Commission, was funded with a grant from the Ford Motor Co. Fund. After its Historical Museum appearance it will be sent on a national tour, as was done with Bailey's "The City Within," after its initial appearance at Detroit Institute of Arts in 1969.

"We are all aware of the achievements of black athletes and black entertainers, but the contributions of many other blacks in fields of science, literature, education, etc., are comparatively little known," Bailey said. "I set out to document some of these, with particular concern for their value as examples to black youth."

He started his search by sending letters to 19,000 business firms, educational institutions, communications media and governmental units, seeking "blacks of high caliber who are making a contribution worthy of note." The response included 34,000 names, which he winnowed down to about 250 to pursue in depth. From mid-1974 to mid-1975 he traveled around the country, photographing the people in their work situations and talking to them about their careers and how youngsters might follow in their footsteps.

His subjects include such people as: —Arthur B.C. Walker Jr., a nuclear physicist on the faculty of Stanford University, who has long been involved in experimentation in upper atmospheric physics, specializing in studies of the solar X-Ray flux.

—Samuel Mayers, an automotive designer for the Ford Motor Co. —Capt. Gerald E. Thomas, USN a holder of degrees from Harvard and Yale universities he has served with distinction on numerous Navy staff posts, and as commander of the USS Bausell (DD 845) was decorated for meritorious performance during combat operations in Southeast Asian waters.

—Oliver LaGrone, Detroit poet and sculptor.

—William T. Patrick Jr., the director of community relations, American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Bailey, who was born in Detroit, became interested in photography while a student at Northern High School. After graduating from Morehouse College in Atlanta, he earned a journalism degree at Wayne State University. Winning a Life magazine contest for young talent, he began to receive assignments from that publication and other magazines, and also from major industrial firms. His first major assignment was covering the 1960 Presidential campaigns of John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon.

Carmichael says

Ball: Win for understanding

The administrators of Mayor James C. Stewart's Inaugural Ball have termed the event a success. In the aftermath of the Jan. 31 get-together, Hyle J. Carmichael, the community's economic developer and a member of the 3-person inaugural ball committee, said the event was a victory for community understanding. More than 550 people from Romulus and communities throughout Wayne County attended the affair in the Metro Hilton Inn in Romulus. "Everyone had a good time and was complimentary on the way the ball was run," Carmichael said. "There had to be at least 240 people for dinner and all told 550 people at both the ball and dinner."

Tickets for the cocktail hour and dinner held prior to the ball were $50 per person, while tickets for the dance were $25 per couple. Carmichael said proceeds from the dinner and cocktail get-together would have to be used to defray the cost of the ball.

"The Ball wasn't a money-making thing," Carmichael said. "It was an opportunity for the city to crow," Carmichael added. "For those who have been involved in Romulus, it was a real source of pride."

Included in the list of dignitaries attending the event to fete Stewart who recently was elected to his first term as mayor, were Mayor S. Richard Marshall of Taylor and his wife, Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas, Romulus Clerk Leonard Folmar, Romulus Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz and Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Gervasio Canejo and 34th District Judge Henry Zaborowski.

In addition, representatives of Congressman William D. Ford's office, State Sen. William Faust and Wayne County Commissioners Royce Smith and Edgar Harris were in attendance, or sent letters of congratulations to the mayor.

Carmichael had no firm figures on earnings from the banquet, but indicated that "bills will be paid."

Although the ball primarily was a get-together opportunity for citizens in Romulus, committee members indicated it also would be used to help pay campaign debts from Stewart's run for the city's top administrative spot.

"I really was pleased," said the mayor Monday. "It's always good to see the citizens of the community get together."

"I'd like to have one of these every month because they're so nice, but that would be hard on the committee. Instead, I think we should plan on two or three community-wide get-togethers each year."

Besides Carmichael, residents who helped set up the Ball were Dolores E. Ristow and Charles Hazen.

Romulus gal seeks post

A Romulus woman is among four Belleville-Romulus residents who have been nominated by Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) for appointment to the nation's military academies.

The congressman nominated Marjorie Glazier of 13615 Cogswell Road for appointment to either the Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., and the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Also nominated were Eugene L.

Beil of 27428 Bordeaux Drive, Romulus, who netted spots on the lists for both West Point and the Air Force Academy; John G. Roundtree II of 33950 Ecorse, Romulus, who was nominated for the Military Academy, and Scott Beck of 1194 Borgman Road, Belleville, who is seeking a position at the Air Force Academy.

According to Ford, the selections were made based on the applicants' scholarship records, physical fitness, leadership potential and high character.

The four high school students will compete for vacancies at the respective service academies, with the final decisions to be made by the individual academies in May.

Between despair, freedom rebirth!

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following editorial was published in the Berlin edition of "welt am sonntag" (The World on Sunday) by Ernst Cramer.

The United States have begun to celebrate its 200th birthday. Compared to the thousands of years old history of Asia and Europe, 200 years is a very short period. But 200 years with one and the same Constitution, which has always been supplemented evolutionarily, never revolutionarily shattered, is, in this epoch of crumbled empires, revolutions, ideologies and terror, almost a record.

More than ever in the past, many thoughtful Americans are now asking themselves whether the continuity of their history can remain guaranteed for the future. Most people today recognize that the long-cherished American Credo, the belief that with good will all problems — internal and international — can be solved, is a fallacy.

Only a few years ago this was not so. The conviction prevailed that we were living in the American century. The "American Way of Life" was taken as setting an example to the whole world for the good of humanity. But over the past decade this euphoria turned into disillusionment, sometimes into despair.

Racial disputes, unemployment, inflation, crime, drugs, all became problems in the land for which there seemed to be no solution. And in the international field America increasingly faces a hostile majority against which her own economic potential and military strength seem ineffectual, though both are still unrivalled in the world.

Never in their 200 years' history have the Americans been so unsure of themselves as today. They have largely lost their self-confidence, a process catalyzed and accelerated by loss of confidence in their leaders.

True, doubts had long existed, but since Lyndon Johnson's presidency they have become plainly visible. Despite gigantic efforts Johnson never managed to realize his "Great Society."

More: he led his country into the escalation of the Vietnam War, only to bow to the combined pressure of "enlightened" journalism, the agitation of the streets and the international propaganda hunt skillfully incited by interested circles, and threw in the towel.

He, too, had become unsure of himself.

His successor, Richard Nixon, who knew the danger of international Communism better than anybody, helped this very Communism, for the self-interested motive of ensuring his re-election, to its two greatest victories since the defeat of the national Chinese in 1949: the Vietnam agreement certainly secured withdrawal of all America's soldiers from the Southeast Asia cauldron, but it was the predictable prelude to Hanoi's victory a few years later.

And the approval given to West Germany's "Ostpolitik" led with incontrovertible logic to Helsinki and thus to recognition of possession by the Soviets of all the territories east of the Elbe, seized by breach of treaties and held fast by oppression. The Watergate scandal finally brought Americans' confidence in their leaders to a depth never plumbed before.

This was a development which even Gerald Ford could not stop. On the contrary, the weakness of leadership he displayed, his frittering away of the sympathies initially placed in him, have further demoralized America's citizens. They are faced with the macabre spectacle of a divided Congress in which particularism and isolationism proliferate and which challenges the executive's leadership of the country, an executive whose efficiency is further paralyzed by internal intrigue and the hypnotism of the elections in November.

Does this mean that at the dawn of the third century of their national existence the Americans must watch the ideal of freedom in the world decline, and finally suffer its demise in their own country, too?

The answer is a clear "no."

For more strongly than in any other country political thought and action in America are imbued with morality. Even today. Many of the excesses in political life even have a moral component — opposition to the war in Vietnam — for instance self-flagellation because of Watergate, indignation at alleged exceeding of authority by the security organs.

It was no mere coincidence that Alexander Solzhenitsyn chose American soil for his appeal against the new appeasement policy, an appeal which has not only revived the debate on the sense and-or absurdity of detente, but has lent it moral depth.

America is strong and young enough to mobilize out of this depth forces which can restore self-confidence first to her own people and then to their friends in the world. Forces which have both the will to sustain freedom and also the courage to oppose everywhere the enemies of this freedom — and they include the self-seeking, the complacent and the cowards at home.

Provided America again takes morality as the guiding principle of her actions, as she did 200 years ago, freedom will be reborn throughout the world, to paraphrase Abraham Lincoln. But if America fails, the world is lost.

It's a game

Citizens lose in tax plan

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

In the middle surrounding presidential candidate Ronald Reagan's $90 billion budget cut" proposal, a valuable idea appears to be getting lost.

While Reagan may be far off on the amount of money he could save by eliminating certain programs for the federal budget which could be better administered at local levels of government, the concept could go a way to eliminate wasteful federal spending if adopted.

There is a tendency of local officials today to play a "put and take" game when it comes to federal tax money.

Local citizens put in their share of the income tax payments and local officials try to take back a share of those payments.

The game is won when the local officials can take back more than the local citizens put in.

And in Michigan, the Citizen lose, because the state does not receive a return share of federal funds proportionate to the amount of money sent to big government.

It could be for Michigan taxpayers that the only way to "win" the put-take game is to limit the amount of money sent to the federal bureaucracy for redistribution to communities.

Under Reagan's plan, funds for such programs as welfare and education — which could be more easily administered by the state, county or local government — would be collected at the level where the most benefit occurs.

While that may mean more taxes at those governmental levels, it would mean a reduction in taxes at the federal level — and if the trend in Michigan of putting in more federal money than is returned continues — it would be an overall tax savings.

In addition, there's another benefit — control of tax resources.

Federal officials will state when asked that there are certain programs now funded with federal money which can be more responsive to the people they serve when administered at the local level, which theoretically has closer contact with and is more responsive to the individual taxpayer.

Revenue sharing was a program designed to accomplish as much.

Under the concept federal funds are given "carte blanche" to local officials to provide a resource to meet the needs of local residents — an end federal officials believed wasn't being met through a myriad of categorical grants in aid programs which revenue sharing was to replace.

However, because the money first is collected by the federal government, and then is returned to local communities, a bureaucracy needed to collect and redistribute the funds reduces the impact of federal tax dollars on individuals because of overhead costs.

Fewer administrative salaries would be needed at the local level to collect the taxes "on the spot", and the citizens of the local community would have better control over decision where the money is spent than they have over the course of affairs in Washington.

Despite the possible benefits, the concept of the Reagan proposal, something he admits is little different from announced plans of Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy, may be lost in the muddle of electioneering.

While the mathematics, and the drama surrounding the impact of such a proposal may still be the California candidate's chances to obtain the Republican Party nod in the November general election the concept provides a seed for a program whose time is long past due.

Story irks citizens

To the editor: We are writing this letter because we can't believe the paper could print a story without first checking for accuracy.

Concerning the article Jan. 28 about streets being cleared in Romulus. This should have been placed in the comic section because it is the biggest joke of the year!

I can't believe anyone has called the mayor to commend him, people just aren't that dumb.

The last time we saw cement was on our driveway which we shoveled.

If or when the mayor checked was he in a piece of Department of Public Works heavy duty equipment? May be it's time he purchased a car and tried to make it through, or may be we should purchase a snowmobile and try to make it out.

It's really hard tous to believe this article.

There really has to be something wrong with this system because we even have a councilman living in this subdivision! Is this all they care about us or is it the fact that the mayor didn't win in this subdivision?

Victims say 'thanks'

To the editor: Would you please publish this thank you letter.

We would like to thank the following list of people and the Belleville community for the many acts of kindness that have been shown us following our devastating fire at Lemontree Apartments.

Because of you, starting over has become a little easier.

We shall never forget all the wonderful things you have done for us.

For next week of school

Beef tips, ravioli are cafeteria entrees

Beef tips over buttered egg noodles and ravioli with cheese in tomato sauce are only two of the entrees that will be served in the Van Buren and Romulus Community School districts next week.

In Van Buren's elementary schools the week will start out with a menu of juice, hamburgers on buns, french fries, icy bird and milk, followed by ravioli with cheese in tomato sauce or tacos, bread and butter, tossed salad, pie and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the lineup will include roast beef over mashed potatoes, bread and butter, fruit cake and milk, with soup, pizza, tossed salad or cole slaw, cookies and milk slated for next Thursday.

Rounding out the week will be macaroni and cheese, or peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, vegetable, bread and butter, pudding, fruit jello and milk.

In the junior and senior high schools, the menu Monday will include beef tips over buttered egg noodles, bread and butter, salad, icy bird and milk, with the Belleville burger as the alternate selection.

Tuesday the bill of fare will be oven-fried chicken, mashed potatoes with gravy, vegetable, bread and butter, fruit jello, pie and milk, while the second food choice will be the doubleburger with cheese.

Next Wednesday the lineup will be Italian spaghetti with meat sauce, vegetable, bread and butter, fruit, pudding and milk, with coney island foot-long hot dogs slated for the alternate selection.

Next Thursday the cafeterias will be serving swiss steak with mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, vegetable, fruit jello, cake and milk, with the Belleville burger as the second choice.

Topping off the week will be soup, grilled cheese sandwiches, french fries, fruit cobbler and milk, with two tacos as the alternate selection.

In the Romulus Community Schools, the menu Monday will be chili con carne, cabbage salad, bread and butter, fruit juice and milk, while salisbury steak with whipped potatoes and gravy, buttered green beans, bread and butter, peach cup and milk will be served on Tuesday.

The lineup in the cafeterias next Thursday will be sloppy joes and hot dogs, buttered corn, rolls and butter, apple sauce and milk, with beefaroni, buttered peas and carrots, bread and butter, pear cups and milk slated for next Thursday.

Rounding out the week will be toasted cheese sandwiches, tomato and vegetable soup, bread and butter, fruit jello and milk.

Freeway bids taken

According to State Rep. Thomas Brown, bids will be taken next Wednesday on an estimated $3.5 million paving project to advance I-275 in Western Wayne County.

The 3-mile project is among 40 highway construction and maintenance projects on which bids will be taken. It extends between West and Sibley Roads south of Romulus and includes six lanes of divided freeway paving, ramp paving and construction of a separate, three-mile parallel bicycle path.

"I'm very glad to see this work proceed, since those of us who live in the western section of the county are painfully aware of the need for improved roadways," Brown said.

The construction of three miles specifically includes paving six-lanes of divided freeway and ramps; and construction of a separate, parallel, paved bicycle path with three timber bridges and a 4-span rolled steel beam bridge. It reportedly will be completed in December.

Hayti scout pack seek new leaders

Members of Cub Scout Pack 830 of Hayti Elementary School have put out an appeal in the community in an effort to net a cubmaster, secretary and committee chairman.

The appeal came during a recent meeting of the Scouting organization. During the program note pads and pens were distributed to the young Scouts as part of a fund-raising program for the group. And a thank you was given by acting Cubmaster Jim Mazer for the participation in the recent bake sale, which was termed a success.

Jeanne Usery of Den 2 also displayed some of the Christmas gifts and crafts the den had made, while Den 5 shows off some of its handicrafts — seed pictures and tomatoes. The den leader is Linda Chafins. One of the winners of the regular baked goods raffle was Peter Kosciolk.

Caroline Nagy, a longtime member of the local PTA, has applied for a position on the scouting committee while Andy Mozug will be becoming a Webelos leader.

Awards presented during the meeting went to James Nagy, gold arrow and bear badge and pin; Brian Kosmalky, dinner cords; Jerry Smith assistant dinner cords, and Peter Kosciolk, athlete's award.

Plans also are being made for the pack's annual Blue and Gold Banquet, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 17.

Belleville man is radiation physicist

Belleville resident Dr. Robert J. Heck, PhD, has been appointed radiation physicist in the radiology department at Harper Hospital in Detroit.

Dr. Heck received his bachelor of science degree in physics at the University of Detroit and completed his doctorate in physics at Michigan State University.

He joined McGill University in Montreal in 1969, leaving for a position as lecturer at Eastern Michigan University in 1971. In 1973 he lectured at the University of Michigan at both its Ann Arbor and Dearborn campuses and at Henry Ford Community College. In 1974 he was a post-doctoral fellow in medical physics at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

CFG extends its fund raiser

Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council said its 1976 candy sale will be extended a week, through Feb. 21, with a new, additional product added to the sale: chocolate-covered caramel and nut confections, known as "Turtles."

Turtles come in 5-oz. boxes which sell for $1.25 each, the same price as Camp Fire Peanut Crunch and Mints. The box, however, will not say "Camp Fire Candy" nor will it have red, white and blue packaging.

"We are delighted to be able to offer this new product during the 1976 candy sale," said Joan Sherman, chairman for the annual sale. "We hope the public will continue to support the sale through the new date of Feb. 21 and that everyone will have a chance to enjoy each of our three products."

Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council also offers the community a chance to buy several units or cases of candy for favorite charities through their "Candy for Charity" program. Suggested candy recipients include the Capuchin Community Center, Detroit Association for Retarded Citizens, Jewish Home for the Aged, Penickton Center for Blind Children and Wayne County Youth Home. Persons interested in purchasing candy for a charity are invited to telephone Pat Jensen at the Camp Fire office at 833-2670.

Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council is a Torch Drive agency serving girls aged 6 through 17 in the tri-county area.

New law covers rent discrimination

Families with children who are apartment hunting, and have run into the problem of "Sorry, no children," may find recourse in an expanded state law dealing with housing discrimination.

According to Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, it has been illegal for years to discriminate by race, color, religion or national origin, but an expansion of a state law now makes it a crime to discriminate against persons because of their sex, marital status, age, and physical or mental handicap.

"This simply means that if someone says you may not rent, buy or maintain property because you supposedly are too young or old, single, the wrong sex or have children, that person not only is wrong, but also is committing a crime," the attorney general said.

He added that citizens should be aware of their rights when entering into any real estate transactions, and if they feel discriminated against for any of the aforementioned reasons, they should contact the Michigan Department of Civil Rights.

PCHA responds to member's 7 'questions'

By MAUREEN RADEMACHER
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

A point-by-point response by the chairman of the Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) to seven charges brought against the group by one of its own member cities is being sent to all 23 participating cities to explain and defend board actions and policies.

Some of those board actions and policies were questioned by Dearborn Heights in a letter from its City Council Chairman F. Earl Caldwell in January. In that letter, he raised the seven "concerns" that questioned actions taken by the board and administration.

The PCHA is an organization of four general hospitals in the suburban Detroit area, owned by 23 participating communities. Each of the communities appoints representatives to sit on the Board of Directors as the decision-making body.

The hospitals of the authority are Annapolis in Wayne, Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti, Outer Drive in Lincoln Park and Seaway in Trenton. A fifth hospital is being built in Taylor.

The charges from the Dearborn Heights council chairman came after the City Council met with its own representatives on the PCHA board. At that meeting, "some concern was expressed about certain practices that are being utilized by the authority," Caldwell said.

Taking each of the seven "concerns" in order, the response from PCHA Board Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti defended the authority's accomplishments and practices, adding that "we always stand prepared to respond to any inquiries which may be raised by our communities."

The first concern in the Dearborn Heights letter regarded the approval of an increase in attorney fees paid by the authority to its lawyer. The price went from $40 to $50 per hour, "more than we pay our city attorney," the Dearborn Heights council chairman said.

Answering the concern, the PCHA spokesman verified that the attorney rates were increased, an action originally done by the Executive Committee, which meets and makes decisions during the summer when the board does not meet, and later concurred with by a majority vote of the full board.

The attorney fees were raised "in accordance with the action of the Board of Directors," the PCHA explanation noted.

The second charge was critical of PCHA Executive Director Karl Klicka for allegedly approving a $70,000 change order, an action outside of his jurisdiction for the large amount. According to Pizzimenti's response, the document approved by Klicka was a request for a field order, and was only signed by him after the Planning and Construction Committee recommended such approval to the Executive Committee, which also approved it a week later. The actual change order was approved by the board a few months later, and subsequently signed by Klicka.

The third charge from the disgruntled member community claimed that the attorney does not submit an itemized statement of all legal fees, instead sending lump sum bills.

In answering that allegation, Pizzimenti included in his letter several itemized billings as examples that costs are itemized from the attorney. He added that board members requesting such itemized billings, presumably from Dearborn Heights, were furnished with copies.

In another allegation about the recent hike in room rates at the hospitals by $10, the Dearborn Heights letter charged that $2.56 of that $10 was earmarked for the Malpractice Suit Fund and seemed an "exorbitant fee."

Although admitting that costs of the malpractice program "was one component of the costs which lead to the decision to increase the room rates by $10 per day," Pizzimenti's response said a study of total income requirements produced the recommendation of raising room rates. He added that he did not know the source of the $2.56 figure contained in the question.

The fifth concern of the Dearborn Heights council alleged that the administration of the PCHA encouraged dropping the 20 percent surcharge for residents of non-member communities. In the letter, the council chairman surmised that "we as member communities would receive absolutely nothing for our .4 of one mill assessment."

According to Pizzimenti, the question of continuing with the 20 percent surcharge has been raised "from time to time." Recently, the item was under discussion at a Finance Committee meeting, and a study document was produced by the administration, illustrating the "impact of discontinuing the 20 percent surcharge."

The document at that time was not distributed for public perusal, and was therefore not given to the Dearborn Heights City Council when requested, Pizzimenti said. Klicka denied them access to the document because "as is customary procedure that the working papers of the many PCHA committees always were considered confidential until the committee proposes a recommendation." Since that time the report of the Finance Committee has been received and filed by the board, with no action on dropping the surcharge.

The Dearborn Heights Council also complained about the rules by which the authority operates when a quorum of delegates is not present for a meeting. In that case, and during the summer months, the Executive Board, a 3-man body headed by the board chairman, is allowed to make decisions subject to eventual approval of the board.

The letter complained that very poor attendance from some representatives have resulted too often in lack of a quorum.

Disputing this claim, Pizzimenti's press release included an attendance record for the past five years, illustrating that during that time the Board of Directors has convened 51 regular and special meetings.

"During that 5-year period, only two meetings were cancelled because of a lack of a quorum," Pizzimenti said. Those two times the lack of one member caused the problem.

The last charge issued by the council chairman from Dearborn Heights accused the authority of purchasing services that are not bid on competitively to reduce costs.

By advertising for bids, city governments and other quasi-official bodies, such as the PCHA, usually accept the lowest bid it can get to perform a job.

Calling the concern of the Dearborn Heights council "ambiguous," Pizzimenti flatly denied the charge, saying the Purchasing Department "scrupulously" follows the guidelines of competitive bidding.

Scout inspection part of pack meet

An inspection of members of Cub Scout Pack 739 by the pack leaders was part of the ceremonies conducted at a recent meeting of the scouting unit.

The inspection then was followed by singing and a demonstration of the shields the Webelos made as their monthly project. Prizes for the shield went to Mike Metavia, Ron Kovacs and Matt Percy.

Awards presented during the meeting went to Chris Pruett and David Kovacs, 1-year pins, Todd Gibbs, 3-year pin and showman badge; Jerry Szveda, 2-year pin; Paul McCraight, Donald Slater, Dale Cemer and Joe Cemer, denner cords, and Joey Mabelitini, James Mabelitini, Tom Carotto and Tommy Craft, assistant denner cords.

Receiving badges were Steven Schraeder, wolf and one gold and one silver arrow each; Tony Gondek, bear book and wolf; Patrick Vallely, one silver and one gold arrow each; George Oboyle, wolf; Doug Ferranti, bear book and one gold arrow; Will Sholston, wolf badge and denner cord; James Deboke, bobcat, Jeffe Fryer, wolf book and bobcat, and Linda Kraft, new assistant den leader. The bobcat ceremony was performed by new Cub Scout Steve Dishon.

Among the projects being undertaken by the pack are the selling of raffle tickets for three bikes and the raffle of a birdhouse made by the Webelos. The former raffle will be held the first Thursday of April. The winner of the latter drawing was Lois Dunlop.

The winner of the monthly cake drawing was Timmy Trailer. The cake's creator was Barb Prusakiewicz.

Den 1 and 5 tied for the Cubbie Award — having the most parents present.

On tap for the Scout pack this month is a trip to Selfridge Air Force Base on Feb. 21 for a guided tour, and the yearly Blue and Gold Banquet to be held at the monthly pack meeting. That night the activities will begin at 6 p.m. rather than the usual 7:30 p.m.

Dog tags available

All dogs over 6 months of age in Sumpter Township must have a license by March 1.

According to Township Clerk Robert K. Demski, dogs needing rabies vaccinations can be inoculated at the Sumpter Fire Station, 19731 Sumpter Road, from 1 to 4 p.m. Feb. 14 and from 1 to 4 p.m. Feb. 28.

Licenses for male and unsexed dogs are $1.50 and for female dogs $2.50.

SO DO WE... OUR FINE CUSTOMERS!

You can be sure it's true when we say we love all our wonderful customers — and this Valentine's Day greeting is just our way of saying "Thanks" for your patronage. We hope we can continue to give you the outstanding banking service you deserve.

Oddfellows, firemen set Valentine dances

BELLEVILLE — A Valentine Dance will be held from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight Feb. 14 at the IOOF Hall at 970 Savage Road, east of Belleville. Sponsored by the Oddfellows of Belleville, Galaxy Lodge No. 384, the dance will feature music by the Belleville High School Jazz Band. Tickets at $2.50 per person are available at Kirk's Drug Store and Roberts Bros. Furniture Store. They may be purchased at the door or by calling Herb Mida at 697-8103 or Frank Reinhackel of 722-3116.

SUMPTER — The Sumpter Township Fire Department will hold its Fireman's Ball from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14. "Potpourri" will play for dancing at the PNA Hall, Sumpter and Harris Roads. Tickets at $6 per person will be available at the door, may be purchased from Sumpter firemen or be reserved by calling 697-0900 or 461-6490.

BELLEVILLE — The Belleville Junior Study Club will hold a card party at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 19 at South Junior High School. Tickets at $1.25 will include refreshments and table and door prizes. The contents of the club's traditional "hope chest" will be raffled. Profits from the event will be directed to the Belleville Bicentennial Park Project.

BELLEVILLE — A dinner and fashion show, "Roamin' Holiday — Family Style," will be held at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 24 in the Father Folta Building at 409 W. Columbia Avenue. Sponsored by the Mothers Club of St. Anthony's School, the show will feature fashions from Muirhead's in Dearborn modeled by local residents. Adult tickets are $4.50 and those 12 and under $2.50 and must be purchased in advance since no tickets will be sold at the door. For reservations, call Sharon Collins at 697-9641 or Carol Sampson at 697-7388.

CARLETON — St. Patrick's Altar Society will sponsor a card party at 7 p.m. Feb. 15 in the church auditorium, Exeter and Labo Roads. Donation is $1.50 per person and will include refreshments and prizes.

BELLEVILLE — The LaLeche League will meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 17 at the home of Carol Schemanske, 6106 Bob Drive in Lake View Trailer Park. The evening's topic will be "Nutrition and Weaning." For further information, call Mary Ann King at 697-9783.

YPSILANTI — The Lincoln Pioneer 4-H Club will sponsor a square dance from 7 to 10:30 p.m. Feb. 14 at the Stoney Creek Grange Hall on Stoney Creek Road. Tickets are 50 cents per person. Refreshments will be available.

ANN ARBOR — Singles 25 and over are invited to join the Tuesday Night Singles at their weekly dance Feb. 17 in the Briarwood Community Room. Frank Venice will provide music from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Beautification nets prize

Huron Valley Steel Corp. of 41000 E. Huron River Drive in Van Buren Township was singled out as the first place winner in the Business for Beauty Contest. Sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in conjunction with Cities Service Co. of Tulsa, Okla., the local program was undertaken by the Belleville Women's Study Club.

Business for Beauty prize goes to Huron Valley Steel

The Business for Beauty Contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs has been the most recent project for the Belleville Women's Study Club.

The contest, held in conjunction with Cities Service Co. of Tulsa, Okla., was under the direction of the Home Life Department with Mrs. Charles Patterson as chairman and Mrs. Pat Baughman, Mrs. Merrill Bird and Mrs. John Petrasky her co-workers. Participation in the beautification program gives clubs the opportunity to work toward a more beautiful community by forming an alliance with businesses. The committee has examined the visual impact of the local business district as well as those in the outlying areas.

The club agreed to present its first place award to Huron Valley Steel Corp. at 41000 E. Huron River Drive in Van Buren Township for improvements in the 1974-1976 period. John Seguin, vice-president and manager of the firm, received the certificate from the club president Mrs. Don White and the Home Life Committee.

Other improved businesses awarded certificates of commendation were Horste Manufacturing Co. of Van Buren Township and Gambles, Huron Electric and Wholesale and Sun and Snow, all of Belleville. They received decals which will be placed in their windows for the public to see.

The top winners from each club will be entered in state competition after which six of the entries will be chosen in the national competition. The business people and spouses will be honored with trips to Washington, D.C. for an awards luncheon. The sponsoring local club and state federation will also be represented.

Roses, burning bush topics at HV Garden Club meeting

The February meeting of the Huron Valley Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Helen White on Bedell Street with Mrs. William Hennells, president, conducting the business session.

A report was given on the care and raising of indoor miniature roses by Mrs. Merrill Bird. Mrs. Laverne Sayre spoke on the value of trees and the history of the burning bush. Appointed to the nominating committee were Mrs. Rodney Mast, Mrs. Adger Wall and Mrs. Fred Flavell.

Guest speaker for the day was Mrs. Sherry Rydinsky, co-chairman of the history division of the Van Buren Township Bicentennial Committee.

She reported on the research being conducted for an 8-part book which will cover the township's past years.

Mrs. Glenn Miller of Elwell Road will be hostess at the March 1 meeting when the program will be "Radiant Blossoms."

Stegers honored on 40th

A small surprise party on Jan. 10 was held at the Moose Home in honor of the lodge secretary George W. Steger and his wife, Louise, who had marked their 40th wedding anniversary on Jan. 7.

Hosts at the celebration were the couple's daughter, Ann Ray, and her fiancé, Donald Evans.

The Stegers, who were married in 1936 in Louisville, Ky., have lived in the Belleville area since 1941 having moved from Detroit where Mr. Steger was born. The couple has two sons and a daughter who all attended Belleville schools. They also have 11 grandchildren, two living in Indiana and the other nine in Belleville.

Cherry sauce accents ham

Serve baked smoked ham or a broiled ham slice with a sparkling cheery cherry sauce in honor of George Washington on his birthday.

For the sauce, drain 1 can (16 ounces) tart red cherries and add enough water to reserved juice to make 1 cup. Combine ¼ cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch and stir in liquid to blend. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thick and clear. Stir in the cherries and ¼ teaspoon red food coloring and serve hot with the ham.

We Strive To Be Cooperative

...to work in harmony with others with due consideration for their ideas and ideals...this is a part of our creed.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that 'special day' with those who are unable to be present, in person, for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal.

Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Forms also may be picked up or dropped off at the Associated Newspapers building, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne. We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, 697-9191.

Make a Valentine treat

For a special appetizer come Valentine's Day, spread crackers with deviled ham and decorate each with a heart-shaped piece of pimiento. Or, serve Vienna sausages in a chafing dish with bubbling cranberry sauce. Cubes of canned luncheon meat and pineapple chunks threaded on small skewers to form kabobs might even shoot some love arrows

Couple back after Florida, Virginia trip

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

After having spent the past two months in Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noffs returned to their home on Edison Street on Feb. 1. They spent a month at New Port Richey where they visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilde; visited with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moore at Zephyrhills and called on one-time Belleville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Feight.

Enroute home they spent a couple of days at Williamsburg, Va. and 10 days with their son and wife, the Larry Noffs at Fairfax, Va.

Ernie Carver of Luzerne, Mich. was a recent over night guest of friends, Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Pond of Borgman Street.

Recent weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kidwell of Ellen Drive were friends from Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Nobles and daughters.

Recent dinner guests of Mrs. Juanita Akers of Liberty Street were her grandson, Michael Berry and a friend from Westland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed and daughter, Cheryl, of Edgmont Street returned home recently from Zephyrhills, Fla. where they were called by the death of the former's father, George Reed, who died Jan. 30 at the age of 81 years.

Funeral services and burial took place in Zephyrhills. The senior Reeds were one-time residents of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road were recent dinner guests of the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Berkley and family of Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Elda Bohl of Robson Road was among other relatives who attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deckelman at Park Place in Dearborn on Feb. 1. Mrs. Deckelman is a sister of the late Erwin Bohl.

After having been in Annapolis Hospital for several days, Mrs. Eva Duquette was moved last week to Hope Care Nursing Center on Cherry Hill Road, Westland.

Mrs. Minnie Moser of San Antonio, Texas recently arrived to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Frank Hoag of Liberty Street and other relatives in the area.

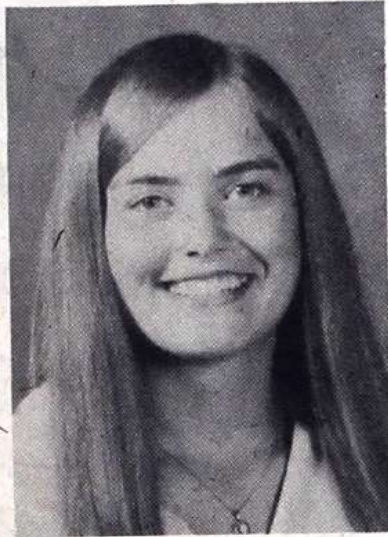

Local friends of Mrs. Lester Heywood, the former Marguerite Robson of Dearborn, will be glad to hear that she is now at home after having been a patient at Harper Hospital in Detroit for the past two weeks.

Relatives of Mrs. Carrie Smock of Wyandotte have received word that she is a surgical patient at Wyandotte General Hospital, Room 688. Oldtime friends will remember her as the former Carrie Renton.

Spring, fall dates set for weddings

MISS PICHAN

MISS SAKSEWSKI

PICHAN-CICHOWSKI

An October wedding is in the future for Becki Gail Pichan and Timothy Dean Cichowski whose engagement is announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Wanda Pichan of 29641 Sibley Road, Romulus.

Miss Pichan currently is a cosmetology student at Virginia Farrell's in Lincoln Park.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffer of 18619 Merriman Road, Romulus, is employed at Walt Hickey Ford in Southgate.

Richard Kubitski of 5276 Tarnow, Detroit.

The couple plan to be married at St. Anthony's Church.

WARD-WHEELER

Wedding bells will ring in the month of May for two Belleville residents, Cathy Ward and Bill Wheeler. Weather permitting, the couple plan an outdoor wedding and reception on May 22.

The bride-elect graduated from Michigan State University where she earned a bachelor of science degree in psychology. She currently works as job placement director of the Romulus Schools.

Her fiancé attended Northwood Institute at Midland and is the owner of the Romulus Seven-Eleven Store.

SAKSEWSKI-KUBITSKI

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Saksewski of 20790 Wilnot Road, Belleville, announce the engagement and autumn wedding plans of their daughter, Gail M. Saksewski, and Kenneth R. Kubitski.

An employee of the Credit Bureau of Ypsilanti, Inc., the bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Belleville High School.

The prospective bridegroom, who is employed at Security Steel in Detroit, is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Belleville Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson became grandparents for the fifth time on Feb. 4 when the newest member of the family arrived at 8:15 a.m. The phone call from Norwalk, Conn. came from their daughter, Patti Groeschler, who had just delivered an 8 lb. - 4 oz. baby boy. The newcomer, titled "Mark Robert", is Patti and Bob's second child, their daughter, Kara, being 3-years-old.

Mrs. Emerson planned to fly out to the East Coast over the week-end.

Tammy is third daughter

Tammy Lynn is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Randy Pooley of 7281 Colbert, Romulus, for their third daughter born Jan. 29. The 5 lb. - 13 oz. newcomer made her debut at Riverside Osteopathic Hospital in Trenton.

On hand to welcome the baby home were her sisters, Liza Jean who's 3-years-old, and Candy Lee, 14 months. The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Sellars of Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pooley of Inkster.

The old way of life

Fashions of the past were not the only attractions when the Van Buren Bicentennial Committee presented its 1776-1876 style show Jan. 30 at the Van Buren Hall. Kay Massingill of Ypsilanti was present to give demonstrations of spinning on her antique spinning wheel. Guests also viewed authentic original outfits too old to be worn which were displayed on dress forms in front of the stage. Several old-fashioned dolls also helped set the mood of another era at the committee's "Fashions of the Past" show.

Ever hear of the cottage piano? It is very like other pianos, except that in the cottage piano, the strings run vertically, or diagonally, from the top to the bottom of the instrument. Of course the difference in form makes necessary some alterations in the details of the action, but the general principle is the same. Other interesting facts: the combined tension of the strings on a concert grand piano is about thirty tons, on an upright piano, about fourteen tons. Like an organ, the piano is tuned to the system of equally tempered intervals.

He marks 90 years with family, friends

Some 85 relatives and friends helped to make Harvey Butler's 50th birthday a special occasion when they gathered for a party at the VFW Hall in Dearborn Heights.

Butler, who lives on Gerald Street in Wayne, greeted acquaintances from Florida, Gaylord, Waterford, Hope, Edenville, Carleton, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Plymouth, Belleville, Inkster, Birmingham, Wayne, Westland and Garden City.

Involved in the party were five of his six children — Bertha Avery of Inkster, Clarence Butler of Taylor, Ethel Vanderbush of Hope, Viola Swegles of Wayne and Betty Butler of Westland. Another son, Edward, is deceased.

Butler has 15 grandchildren, 46-great-grandchildren and five great, great grandchildren.

Four generations of the Butler family were at the party. Harvey of Wayne, Clarence, William of Belleville and his son, William Jr.

Butler also has a sister, Gertrude Greenwald of Taylor, and one brother, Mark Butler of Waterford.

The birthday celebrant, who was born, raised and has lived most of his life in Wayne, received two special items on his day, a birthday greeting from President Gerald Ford and a visit from his doctor, W. H. Kern of Garden City.

Church sets smokers clinic

Smokers interested in kicking the habit will have the opportunity to do so during the month of March.

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville in cooperation with American Cancer Society, the American Lung Association and the Michigan Heart Association, will sponsor six 2-hour sessions at the Methodist Church, 417 Charles Street, Belleville.

The March dates will be the 8th.

10th, 15th, 17th and 22nd with a final meeting on April 21. The 7:30-9:30 p.m. programs will consist of films, speakers and group therapy sessions. For further information, call 697-9262 or 697-7504.

We could have danced all night (?)

Would you believe this group of smiling faces had just been through a 36-hour dance marathon? A joint effort on the part of the three classes at Belleville High School, the dance was supported by school and community pledges with the total garnered by all classes being over $1,000. The sophomores were the best sales people with the juniors winning the overall dance competition. Points were scored for money pledged as well as the number of contestants finishing the program. Couples danced for 12 hours on each of three consecutive days for a total of 36 hours. The group would like to express thanks to all who supported the marathon and especially Burger King, Big Boy and McDonald's for donating meals to feed the participants.

"Bumping" to victory

Shades of "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?"!! A dance marathon at Belleville High School held Jan. 22, 23 and 24 was sponsored by the combined sophomore, junior and senior classes. The purpose was to bolster the funds of each class. Randy Krzesinski and Margo Nowak were among representatives of the juniors who won the overall competition.

'Bi-Bye Blues' is 'Cabaret' theme

The Belleville Band Boosters once again are making preparations for their annual "Cabaret" which will feature the Belleville High School Jazz Band.

The theme for this year's event is "Bi-Bye Blues" and, as in past years, will be held in the cafetorium of North Junior High School. Those who attended last year's party can attest to the good music and dancing (both the oldies and today's rock) which they enjoyed in a club atmosphere.

Make a date for 8 to 11 p.m. Feb. 21 and enjoy a special evening for only $2 per person. Light refreshments will be included.

Cabaret chairman Betty Fleming suggests purchasing your tickets in advance by contacting Marie Cilia at 697-7196 for reservations. Members of the Jazz Band will be selling tickets which also will be available at the door.

Taste Barrier Broken.

Struggle to get taste into low tar smoking ends suddenly with new 'Enriched Flavor' discovery for 9 mg. tar MERIT.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has created a taste barrier for low tar cigarettes.

A limit on how good a low tar smoke could taste.

Now that barrier has been broken.

Broken by a remarkable cigarette called MERIT. MERIT packs a radically-new 'Enriched Flavor' discovery developed after years of research by Philip Morris.

'Enriched Flavor' is so good at packing extra flavor into tobacco that MERIT actually delivers as much—or more—taste than cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

Yet MERIT delivers only 9 mg. tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Lower, in fact, than 98% of all cigarettes sold.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tobacco—Not Special Filters—Ends "Low Tar, Good Taste" Search

Special "low tar, good taste" filters are what most other cigarette makers came up with to try to get flavor into low tar smoking.

And are still coming up with.

But the answer, the real answer, comes from the other end of smoking. The tobacco end.

By "cracking" tobacco smoke down into its various ingredients, researchers at Philip Morris discovered there are certain basic ingredients more important to taste than others.

Ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

By selecting these high quality flavor producers that are also low tar contributing, 'Enriched Flavor' was carefully developed, perfected and packed into the tobacco used to make MERIT.

The taste-test results were startling.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

Snowmobilers advised to obey laws

Sumpter Police Lt. Jerry Cox is reminding snowmobile drivers that the vehicles not only are recreation vehicles, but also are subject to certain state laws.

According to Cox, the Sumpter Police will be distributing pamphlets on snowmobile operation and safety through several stores in the township and through the Sumpter Township Hall.

Laws governing snowmobiling not only cover the places a snowmobiler may use his vehicle, but also the times such use is allowed.

According to Cox, snowmobilers may utilize the unimproved right-of-way portion of any road — that area without paving or shoulder improvement, at any time. The shoulder or roadway could be traversed to cross a bridge or culvert or to cross the road, but before the improved right-of-way is entered the snowmobiler must stop and yield the right-of-way to normal vehicular traffic.

The only time a snowmobile may use the roadway for travel is when the operator has a special permit.

According to Cox, snowmobiles may not be operated within 100 feet of a home at any more than the minimum speed required to maintain movement between the hours of 12 and 6 a.m.

Snowmobilers must report all accidents which result in injury, death or damage of more than $100 to police.

And, Cox added, that any snowmobiler who tries to elude a police officer, or conservation officer, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

To operate a snowmobile legally, the owner must have the vehicle registered and lettered with characters at least 3-inches tall with the registration number on each side of the front cowl with letters which are in contrast to the snowmobile's paint job.

Operators at all times must have a valid registration certificate on them, and must present the certificate to a police officer on request.

Snowmobilers who wish to operate their vehicles at night must have headlights, tail lights, brakes and a muffler in good condition on the vehicle.

"Enforcement of the snowmobile act has been stepped up by both local authorities and the Department of Conservation due to an increasing number of snowmobiling complaints," Cox said. "It is the hope of the Police Department that an informed public will encourage snowmobilers to police themselves, respect the rights of others and respect private property rights."

Stewart believes removal cost cut

Romulus' new mayor believes he has cut down on the cost of removing snow from the city by the use of the city's vehicles.

Mayor James C. Stewart says his cost record on snow removal for January's 8-inch snowfall in Romulus is better than his predecessor's cost record on a 19-inch snowfall in late 1974.

"I made a comparison, and it shows that the city removed that 8-inch snowfall with its own equipment at only $5,338 extra in overtime costs," Stewart said. "During the 19-inch snowfall, outside crews were brought in to handle the chores as special contractors and the costs soared to $30,000 to $40,000.

"It was cheaper to use the city's crews according to my statistics," Stewart said that the city used three snow removal vehicles, including two trucks with undercarriage graders and a road grader to handle the 1976 snow.

pool for snow removal will be two new graders with front end blades.

"That'll give us five pieces of equipment to handle the work," Stewart said. "We should get it done even quicker."

Belleville collegians take part in concert

Four Belleville residents, who are attending Western Michigan University (WMU) in Kalamazoo will take part in an University Symphonic Band concert on Feb. 22.

The participating students will be Troy K. Green, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Green of Ecorse Road, Kathy Bassett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen H. Bassett of Harmony Lane, James Schweigert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey D. Schweigert of Elwell Road, and Deana Holcomb, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Holcomb of Ormong Drive.

The concert will be staged at 3 p.m. in the Miller Auditorium of the Kalamazoo college. Trombonist Chris Shook, a graduate student from Fulton, will be featured in the "Concerto for Trombone and Band," while other program pieces will include Richard Strauss' "Don Juan," Karel Husa's "Al Fresco" and the "WMU Rhapsody" by WMU composer William Allgood.

Firemen plan ball

The volunteers of the Sumpter Fire Department will be holding a revival of the annual Firemen's Ball Saturday at the Polish National Alliance Hall at Sumpter and Harris roads in the community.

Tickets for the affair are $6 per person and are available at the door. Any volunteer fire fighter also will be selling tickets prior to the dance.

The dance will run from 8:30 until 1 a.m. and will feature the entertainment of Potpourri.

Also included in the dance will be light refreshments, beer, and set-ups. Information on the ball can be obtained either from the volunteers or by calling the Sumpter Township Hall at 697-0900.

Class set

The Huron Hills Lapidary and Mineral Society will hold its next meeting tomorrow at the Ypsilanti West Middle School, 105 N. Mansfield St., Ypsilanti.

Lee Pettiford will give an illustrated talk on his recent trip to Tanzania, Africa, at the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Also included will be a silent auction of minerals, cutting material and other lapidary items.

Cory screens preschoolers

The Cory Elementary School will be holding its annual pre-kindergarten screening this month.

Screening sessions for children about to enter the kindergarten next year at the school will be held Feb. 26 and 27.

Parents who do not know of the screening program are urged to call the school at 721-4757 for information.

- 76-158
- 11a.1. Motion by McAnally, supported by Block, to adopt Resolution 76-158 (non-returnable containers).
- RESOLUTION 76-158
- WHEREAS: The State of Michigan is renowned for its scenic highways and picturesque waterways; and
- WHEREAS: The continued littering of non-returnable beverage containers could potentially destroy much of the aesthetic beauty that is Michigan's; and
- WHEREAS: The reuse of containers would conserve precious energy resources and in the process create new employment opportunities for the unemployed, as well as the underemployed; and
- WHEREAS: The Legislature of the State of Michigan is presently debating legislation that would prohibit the use of non-returnable containers within the state;
- NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus herewith implores the Congress of the State of Michigan to adopt legislation which would prohibit the use of non-returnable containers throughout the State of Michigan.
- BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That said legislation would help retain Michigan's natural beauty, create new employment, and conserve energy resources.
- BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the attention of Governor William Milliken, Senator William Faust, Representatives whose jurisdiction include parts of Romulus, members of the House Appropriations Committee, Representative H. Lynn Jondahl Speaker of the House, Bobby D. Crim, and the surrounding communities of Wayne County.
- Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Martin, Canejo, McAnally, Lee, Block. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.
- 11b.1. No Action.
- 76-159
- 11c. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Martin, to send Charles Omarzu, Grants Administrator, and Mary Carter, Urban Renewal Director, to the Michigan Municipal League 1976 Legislative Conference. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Martin, Canejo, McAnally, Lee, Block. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.
- 76-160
- 11d.1. Motion by Oakley, supported by Raspberry, to adopt Resolution 76-160 (opposing "Share the Wealth" tax plan).
- RESOLUTION 76-160
- WHEREAS: The Governor of the State of Michigan has introduced a plan which will, according to his State of the State Address, provide additional state revenues for primarily larger cities; and
- WHEREAS: This new revenue does not represent new money but rather a new distribution plan; and
- WHEREAS: The Federal Government, as well as the State, presently distributes priority monies to larger cities, specifically Act 51 revenue and CETA revenues; and
- WHEREAS: A new distribution plan designed to give priorities to larger cities would be counter-productive, netting an overall deteriorating effect of communities state-wide; and
- WHEREAS: Newer, smaller communities have profitted from the experience of the larger, older communities and are presently struggling to allocate those funds so as to preclude the horrible blight experienced by those larger communities
- NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that it be set in the record that the City of Romulus understands and sympathizes with its neighbors in the larger communities and urge the Governor of the State of Michigan to formulate plans which will help to alleviate the atrocious problems these larger cities are experiencing
- HOWEVER: Let it be vividly understood that the City of Romulus has its first obligation to the citizens of its own community and that it is unalterably opposed to any plan which would syphon funds from the City of Romulus clipping our frantic attempts of providing for our citizens.
- BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That the Governor of the State of Michigan be and is herewith petitioned to review his present "Share the Wealth" program and revise same so that the resultant effect of the implementation of same would net a gain to every community in the State of Michigan
- BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this Resolution be forwarded to Governor William Milliken, Representatives Mahalak and Owen, Senator Faust, and all surrounding communities.
- Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Martin, Canejo, McAnally, Lee, Block. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.
- 76-161
- 12a. Motion by Block, supported by Oakley, to approve Warrant No. 186 with deletion (Voucher No. 17818 to Hersey Meter for $965.00) for an adjusted Grand Total of $304,154.46. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Block, Lee. Nays - McAnally, Martin, Oakley, Raspberry, Canejo. Motion failed.
- 76-162
- Motion by Oakley, supported by Raspberry, to reconsider motion 76-161. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, McAnally, Block, Canejo. Nays - Martin, Lee. Motion carried.
- Roll call on motion 76-161 showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Canejo, Block, Lee. Nays - Martin, McAnally. Motion carried.
- 76-163
- 12b. Motion by Oakley, supported by Block, to approve Urban Renewal Warrant No. 182 in the Grand Total Amount of $165,673.00. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Martin, Canejo, McAnally, Lee, Block. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.
- 76-164
- 12c. Motion by Oakley, supported by Raspberry, to pay the Construction Certificate to Sora Excavating. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Martin, Canejo, McAnally, Lee, Block. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.
- Motion by Raspberry, supported by Block to adjourn meeting. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, Martin, Canejo, McAnally, Lee, Block. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

Kahn takes noncom training

A Belleville Army staff sergeant has been assigned to Company C, 4th Battalion, 1st Advanced Individual Training Brigade at Ft. Benning Ga., as a training noncommissioned officer.

S. Sgt. David E. Kahn, the son of Leonard T. Kahn of 20749 Martinsville Road, Belleville, reported for his new assignment on Jan. 14.

Sgt. Kahn entered the Army in September 1965 and was last stationed at Camp Hovey, Korea.

His wife, Lynda, also is with him at Ft. Benning.

Also in the armed Forces:

Army Sgt. Karl L. Pufpaff, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pufpaff of 8710 Sand Road, Bellevue, recently was presented the Army Commendation Medal at Ft. Hood, Tex.

The medal was awarded for meritorious service. Such service can be over an extended period of time or for outstanding achievement in a single situation. In either case, the recipient must have demonstrated skills and dedication far above the average.

Sgt. Pufpaff earned the award during his last assignment with the 51st Signal Battalion in Korea.

He entered the Army in April 1971 and currently is assigned as a section chief in Company E of the 16th Signal Battalion at Ft. Hood.

Airman Fred E. Taubert, whose mother and stepfather are Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Sanderson of 479 Wayside Drive, Belleville, has been selected for technical training in the U.S. Air Force communications electronics systems field at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., where he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Taubert is a 1973 graduate of Belleville High School. His wife, Pamela, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. McNeil of 4435 Randolph, Wayne.

Dines with Ford

A Romulus serviceman found he had a special treat coming when he met Congressman and Mrs. William D. Ford aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ranger in San Diego, Calif., recently. Donald Krupnow, whose parents live at 7201 Merriman Road, met the congressman and his wife while they were touring the ship during a break in an education seminar. Ford requested shore leave for the young man, and the couple took him to dinner to their hotel for the evening.

Scout receives Arrow of Light

A Webelos den member of Cub Pack 793 of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville, Dale Renton, has received the highest honor of Cub Scouting.

Renton has been given the arrow of Light Award, the only badge he may take with him into the Boy Scouts.

He was presented with the honor by Webelos Leader Bob Monforton during a recent meeting of Pack 793.

In addition to the Arrow of Light, the Webelos received citizen and forester badges for extra work.

In addition to the Arrow of Light Award, other badges were given to the Cub.

Earning honors were Andy Swinson, Bobcat badge; James Tannis, Bobcat badge; Andy Winnie, two-gold and one-silver arrows; Chris Boulton, recruiter badge and Eric Larcinese, artist, athlete, and scholar badges.

Scouts Karl Duda and Eric Stimach of Den 3 carried the flags as part of the opening ceremonies with the assistance of David Wood and Jeff Memering.

Norman Ferrell and Jimmie Monforton carried a flag made for the pack by Joan Monforton.

Following the awards ceremonies scouts Dale Renton, Grant Memering, Tim Winnie and Eric Larcinese put on a skit to entertain the other pack members and their parents.

After the skit, the scouts and their parents shared refreshments.

Students honored

Several residents of the Belleville-Romulus community have been named to the academic honors list at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

Topping the listing with perfect marks for the fall semester at the college was Petri Diana, of Evans, New Boston, a senior. They also were named to the general honor roll.

Also named to the honor roll were Belleville resident Carolyn Dillingham of Harmony Lane, a sophomore, and Romulus residents Michael Griz of Merriman Road, a junior; Keith Konarska of King Road, a freshman; Kevin Konarska of King Road, a freshman, and Carol McGinnis of Whitehorn, a junior.

To be named to the honors list, students must have a cumulative grade point average of B or better for his or her entire collegiate career. The straight A listing is based solely upon fall semester grades.

Rummage sale set

The Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville will be holding a rummage sale between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Feb. 21 at the church located near the corner of Belleville and Venetian roads.

All proceeds from the sale will help finance church-related activities.

Rematch: Belleville vs. Salem

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

The stakes are high in Friday's rematch between twice-defeated Belleville and unbeaten Plymouth Salem, the undisputed cage ruler of the Suburban 8 Basketball Conference.

Salem, ranked in some Class A polls as the No. 2 team in the state this season, will place its prestige on the block when it meets Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers for the second time this season.

In their first confrontation, Salem won a hard-fought 70-65 decision on the Tiger court.

Sports

"Salem is an outstanding ball club," Niemi stressed. "And Ellinghausen, (Jim), is a legitimate all-stater, no doubt about it. When there is pressure on their club he always seems to come through for them."

Belleville needs this victory to stay alive in the conference title race. And a Belleville upset, of course, would also raise a lot of eye lids across the state.

And Niemi feels his team is ready for such a confrontation. "I feel our team has much more maturity and confidence going into this game than it did the previous one," Niemi added.

A sell-out crowd is expected to jam Plymouth Salem High for this one.

Salem will carry a 15-0 record into this week's action while Belleville is 12-3 on the year. The Tigers were scheduled to play Edsel Ford Tuesday night.

Belleville escaped an upset-minded Redford Union last Friday, coming away with a narrow 61-50 victory. A hot-shooting Redford quintet leaped to a 25-14 first period lead before the Tigers gathered their wits and their shooting guns.

At halftime, Belleville had come back within four, 38-34 of catching its hosts. Harold Dennis, Tim Grantham and Roy Rutherford came off the bench to fire up the Tigers.

Both teams collected 13 points in the third period but Belleville outscored their rivals 14-9 in the last eight minutes with Navell Turner's feed to Dennis Easley under-the-basket for the two points that determined the outcome of the game.

Easley had 21 points and nailed down 17 rebounds. He shared individual scoring honors with Redford Union's Tom Sweeney. Also in double figures for the Tigers was Turner, who pumped in seven field goals and four for four at the line for 18 points.

"R.U. shot extremely well in the first half," Niemi explained, "just unbelievable. Schultz got 12 of his 25 points and that threw us off guard."

"Our second half rebounding and defense turned this game around," Niemi continued. "We were very patient in the second half, waiting for the percentage shots."

Romulus High cagers destroy Willow Run

A heart-breaking 62-59 overtime loss to perennial Class B state power River Rouge didn't discourage Romulus which bounced back Friday night to whip Willow Run 60-51.

Willow Run surprised Coach Jesse Meriweather's Eagles with a zone defense which led to a low-scoring game.

"In fact, the score was the lowest we have been involved in this season," Meriweather said. "I think they felt they couldn't run with us, so they resorted to delayed tactics."

Willow Run got the jump on the Eagles 12-11 in the first period but Romulus, led by Michael Morrison, who scored eight of his game high 20 points in the second period, managed to tie it up at halftime at 28-all.

Then, Romulus' defense went to work and held the Flyers to four points for the third period while the Eagles raced to a 6-point lead.

"Once we got ahead, they had to come after us and it was all over," said Meriweather.

Morrison led a balanced Eagle attack which included three other players in double figures. Mel Stewart counted 12 points, Allen Lewis added 11, and Billy Anderson finished with 10.

Romulus looked good at the free throw line where it sank 16 of 21 offerings.

With Anderson and Stewart each pumping in six points, Romulus grabbed a 20-12 lead over Rouge. But the Eagles couldn't hold on as the Panthers tied it up at 28-all at the end of two periods.

Romulus outscored its hosts 20-17 in the third period but Rouge knotted the score with 24 seconds left in regulation at 57-all.

Romulus had a last shot with 10 seconds left and missed, forcing the issue into overtime where the Eagles lost a 5-2 duel.

"I felt we could beat them if we could execute well," said Meriweather. "I feel we made a pretty good impact on them. They are a more physical out we're a better shooting team than they are."

Romulus will play before a University of Detroit crowd tomorrow night, clashing with Detroit Southeastern at 6 p.m.

In the nightcap, U of D, with former Romulus and Livonia Franklin all-stars Johnny Long and Kevin Kaseta respectively in the lineup, will take on Cleveland State.

3 wrestlers win individual league titles

Though Belleville's bid for a Suburban 8 Conference Wrestling Team Championship fell short, three members of Coach Gerald Malecek's squad retained their individual titles.

Randy Slocum captured an unprecedented third consecutive title while Jeff Bracken and Greg Johnson became two-time league champs.

Malecek had "mixed feelings about his team's finish."

"We could have done better, I'm sure," Malecek said. "I guess Coaches are never satisfied with their team performances. But, we had six wrestlers in the finals and consolation rounds and five won, so that's not so bad."

Slocum retained his 170-pound title when he won a one-sided 20-4 decision over Plymouth Salem's Bob Dasher. Bracken reached the finals of the 122-pound class where he met Bill Tarbuton of Trenton and earned a 5-3 decision.

Johnson, fighting a flu bug, took on Dearborn's John Rutt in the finals of the 101-pound class and came off the mats with a 4-1 decision and the gold medal for that weight class.

Edsel Ford, with four league champs and a total of 105½ team points, captured the conference championship. Plymouth Salem was runner-up with 90 points, followed by Belleville (88½), Trenton (79), Allen Park (74), Dearborn (57), Redford Union (39) and Livonia Bentley (26½).

Belleville heads for Ypsilanti on Saturday for the Class A state district "wrestle-downs." A wrestler must finish in the top four of his weight class in order to qualify for next Saturday's state regionals.

Romulus skaters 'coast'

Undefeated Romulus Mites outskated Woodhaven 4-1 to stretch their winning streak to 17 on the season.

Jason Glaesmer fired in two goals unassisted while wingman Frenk Renko and Tim Ferranti also tallied twice. Romulus is 17-0-0 on the year.

In other action, Master Craft Squirts outplayed Woodhaven 4-1 as Jeff Lozier turned in with a hat trick and an assist. Doug Hendricks scored one of the goals as the Squirts padded their record to 15-2-3.

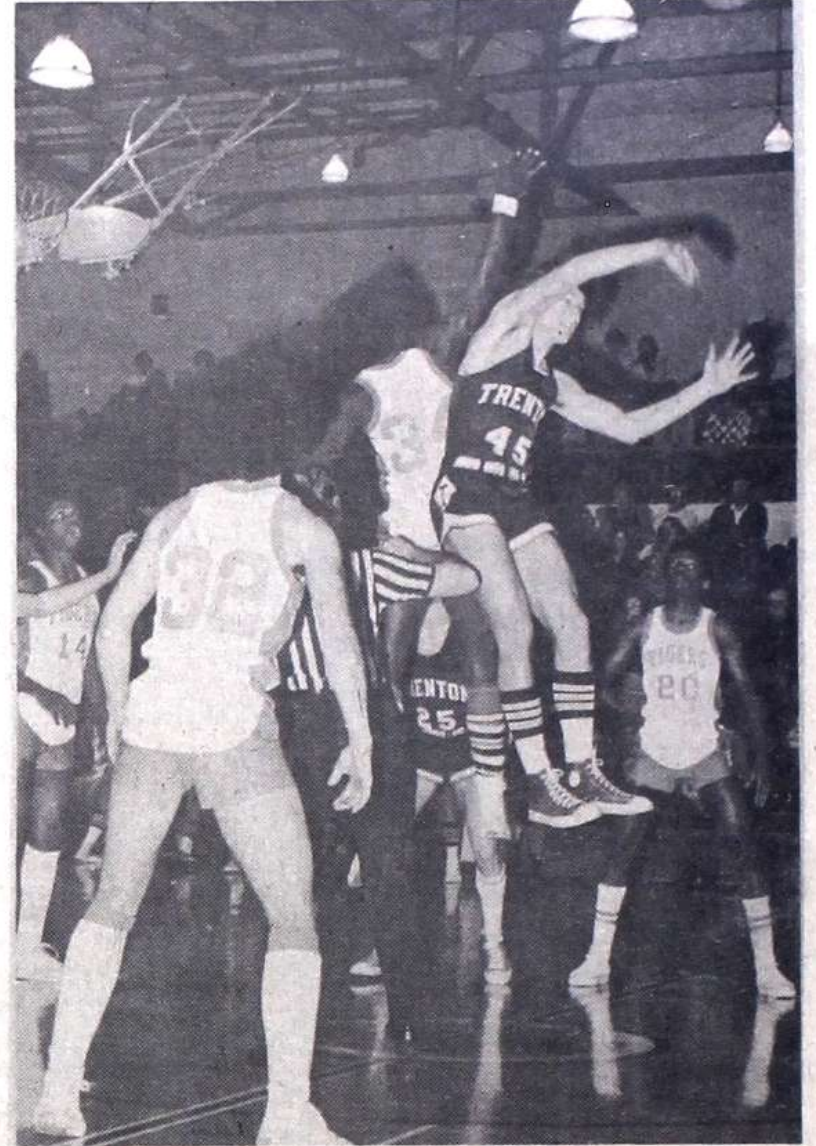

The Romulus Midgets, guided by Gary McNamee and Dane Vlaz, moved into second place with a 9-4-3 record. Goalie Tom Prosser has four shutouts to his credit while Jerry Cusmano has carded a hat trick.

Dan Chadwick and Dan Cutcher have played the role of playmaker for the Midgets.

Dino's Pee Wees stretched their winning string to eight games as they bombed Taylor 7-2. Frank Baron had an excellent night as he found the range for four goals. Teammate John LeBlanc scored twice while Jim Sedlacek accounted for one goal.

Dino's is now 13-7-1 on the year.

The Romulus Hockey Association is sponsoring a dance on Feb. 21 at 9 p.m. at the Romulus Progressive Club, Huron River Drive. Admission is $6 per person and tickets may be obtained at the door.

'The big one'

It's one of those "now-or-never" deals says his team is ready. Above, Belleville's Narvell Turner (34) bats a ball to teammate Cornell Gratham (20) in a rematch with Trenton. Belleville avenged their first round loss to the Trojans, then went on to nip Redford Union last Friday.

To clean leather upholstery, use only the suds of a mixture of mild soap and lukewarm water. Rub the suds gently into the leather with cheesecloth or soft cloth. Do not let the soap suds saturate or soak through the leather. Remove suds with a clean damp cloth, and buff dry with a soft cloth. To restore faded luster, dust the leather lightly with baby powder and buff. Remove stubborn film on interior glass with a clean cloth dampened in a mixture of one part white vinegar to one part lukewarm water.

★ Top swim list ★

With the preliminaries for the 1976 Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Invitational set for today, area high school swimmers know just about where they stand.

According to the latest listing compiled by Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski, Livonia Franklin's Steve Christie, Cherry Hill's Randy Wehrmeister and Belleville's Mark Stoelton are the "men to watch" in this year's competition.

The trio holds down at least six of the top times in the 11 events. Whether they will emerge with gold medals, time will tell.

Belleville shoots for WW title

Belleville, the defending Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Invitational champ, is favored to win the 1976 championships.

But, there is an unknown factor awaiting Coach Sam Vicchy and his Tiger tankers.

For the first time in its 15 year history, the field will also include Plymouth Salem, a team that Belleville sees each year in Suburban 8 Conference competition.

The two league rivals are scheduled to meet tonight and, from the outcome of the meet, Vicchy can draw his conclusion about the potentiality of the Rocks' strength.

Also in the WW field will be teams representing Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Garden City East, Garden City West, Livonia Franklin, Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Cherry Hill.

The preliminaries for the diving and 500-yard freestyle events are set for 6 tonight at Westland John Glenn. The prelims for the swimming events are scheduled for 9 a.m., Saturday, and the championships will be staged in the evening at 7 p.m. on that day.

"Belleville is definitely the team to beat," said Al Wachtel, Glenn's head coach and host for this year's invitational. "I feel they have the depth and the quality swimmers again."

"But look for Cherry Hill to give Belleville a race for their money," Wachtel added.

The winning team along with the runner-up will be awarded trophies. Swimmers who finish in the top three places in each of the individual events will be awarded medals. Medals will also be awarded to the winning relay teams.

Admission to the finals is $1 and 50 cents for adults and students, respectively.

How very true... and timely!

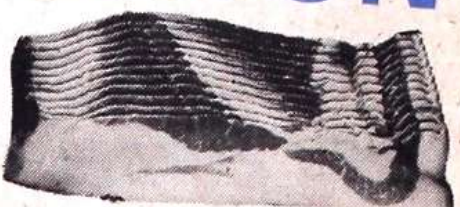

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help small men by tearing down big men. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.

You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatreds. You cannot establish security on borrowed money. You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do themselves.

The timeless wisdom of Abraham Lincoln was never more appropriate than in the era of uncertainty and doubt about honors and integrity. On his birthday, the officers and staff of Earl Keim Realty reaffirm our devotion to the Lincoln heritage and pledge to follow his noble examples in our business dealings.

YOGURT

Yogurt is a glamour food of international gourmets. It is a cultured milk product made by adding a culture of lactic acid-forming bacteria to whole or partially skimmed milk which has been pasteurized and homogenized. Nonfat dry milk solids are frequently added. The resulting product is smooth and custard-like with a tangy flavor. It is delicious and nutritious.

Although yogurt is one of the oldest foods enjoyed by modern man, it did not become popular in the United States until manufacturers added flavoring. Strawberry, blueberry, raspberry, apricot, and apple are a few of the varieties of fruit preserves used.

Store yogurt in the refrigerator—do not freeze. If allowed to warm to room temperature yogurt might separate slightly. Many yogurts have the fruit preserves in the bottom. If the container says "stir", do this to get the flavor throughout the product.

When cooking with yogurt, use a low temperature and short heating period; otherwise the yogurt may separate. Stabilize it by adding a small amount of flour into other ingredients, do not stir.

Use as purchased for lunch or a snack. Some folks also like it for breakfast. Plain yogurt makes a good marinade when blended with spices. It is the secret ingredients of many sauces and gravies. Substitute it for sour cream in salad dressings and exotic dishes such as beef stroganoff. Mixed with fresh fruit, it makes a tangy dessert. For something special, try pineapple yogurt on cole slaw.
